

A large crowd of people is gathered in Times Square, New York City, for a prayer event. The crowd is dense, and many people are raising their hands in prayer. In the background, several tall buildings are visible, including the Empire State Building. A large red graphic overlay is positioned at the top of the image, containing the text "PRAYER IN THE SQUARE" in white capital letters. The graphic consists of a red square with a white crosshair in the center, and the text is arranged around the crosshair. The overall scene is one of a large-scale public gathering in a major city square.
